SUPERVISOR'S REPORT.

—o—

DISTRICT No. 1.

Summer term taught by Miss Maud Partridge. Miss Partridge gave general satisfaction. She would undoubtedly have improved on her work had she not been very homesick.

Winter term. The winter term was under the management of Miss Oneida M. York, who taught a profitable term.

DISTRICT No. 2.

Summer term taught by Eliza A. Felt. Miss Felt is a teacher of large experience.

Winter term taught by Elmer E. Tuell. The district was fortunate in securing such an efficient teacher.

DISTRICT No. 3.

Winter term, of 1890-91, taught by Miss Sadie A. Barker. This term should properly have been reported last year; but, being in session after our Annual March Meeting, was visited by your Supervisor who found the school orderly, and that thorough work had been done.

DISTRICT No. 3 & 4.

These two districts united and hired Mrs. Ella Bryant. Mrs. Bryant is every way worthy of the confidence placed in her by the districts.

DISTRICT No. 5.

Summer term taught by Miss Angie E. Penley. This is Miss Penley's own district, yet she did good work.

Winter term taught by A. H. Damon. This term was visited but once, so that a report of the work done cannot be given.

DISTRICT No. 7.

Summer term taught by Miss Arvilla D. Grover. Miss Grover is a thorough scholar and gave extra satisfaction in this school.

Winter term taught by John A. Tylor. Mr. Tylor is well spoken of by the residents of the district. This term was visited but once by the Supervisor; but at that visit the school was orderly and working hard.

DISTRICT No. 8.

Spring of 1890. A term of school was in session after the Annual Meeting, taught by Mr. C. A. Brooks. Mr. Brooks has raised this school to a high standard in scholarship.

Summer term taught by Miss Fannie E. Brooks. This was Miss Brooks' first term; and in her own district. Her work was conscientious and entirely satisfactory.

Winter term taught by William M. Brooks. This term was brought to a sudden close by sickness in the family of Mr. Brooks. Mr. Brooks has taught ninety-eight terms of school and is one of the best of instructors.

DISTRICT No. 9.

No summer term.

Winter term, taught by Minot G. Davis, is still in progress at time of reporting.

DISTRICT No. 10.

Summer term taught by Miss Stella M. Bowker. The school made rapid progress under her management.

Winter term taught by Mrs. May C. Bickford. Mrs. Bickford is one of the most valuable of teachers. A private term of eight weeks was taught by Mrs. Bickford after the winter term.

DISTRICT No. 11.

Miss Jennie L. Coffin has taught this school throughout the year. She has taught four terms in this district, which is of itself a good report.

DISTRICT No. 12.

Summer term taught by Miss Oneida M. York. This was Miss York's first term. She worked hard and was successful.

Winter term taught by Miss Margarette E. Murch which was also successful.

DISTRICT No. 13.

No summer term.

Winter term taught by Miss Addie E. Titcomb. This was the smallest school in town, the average attendance being only two students. Some means should be taken to unite this school with the Patch Mountain school, as it is impossible to do any thing like good work with so few pupils. Miss Titcomb did as good work as could be expected.

REMARKS.

The report of the schools for the last year is most encouraging. The Agents having tried to secure the services of competent teachers, have been very successful. Not many inexperienced teachers have been hired, but those who were engaged have proved themselves equal to the young teachers of other towns. The best work has, of course, been done by the experienced teachers. The best terms have been those where the teachers received the highest wages, with one exception. Of course an agent should not pay a cheap teacher a high price, nor an experienced one an exorbitant price. As a rule the teacher who can command high wages is the cheapest person we can put into our schools. •

It is necessary that some provision should be made for the preservation of our school-books. There should be in every school-house in town a cupboard large enough to hold all the books needed in the district. Our school books have cost the town about $450.00 and it is our duty to look after them and provide for their safety.

An annual appropriation should be made for the purchase of text-books. It is necessary that some books should be added each year, to what we now have. The small books soon wear out and new ones have to take their place. This year I would recommend that $50.00 be raised for the purchase of text-books. There are some new books that we shall have to buy anyway, besides replacing old ones.

The place to secure good schools is in the district school meeting. Every voter, and especially those who have children, should attend these meetings and see that men who will look after the interests of the schools are put in office. The agents have tried hard during the past year to make the most of the little money placed at their disposal. They should, however, notify the Supervisor, not only when it will begin, but when it will close; so that he can visit each term before the close. This is not said to criticize any of the agents;—for they have taken more pains to confer with the Supervisor than one would expect men to do for the little, or nothing, they receive for their labor—but that, during the coming year, none may forget the proper notifications.

Respectfully submitted,

C. P. KIMBALL,

Supervisor.
